1 Policy Statement

1.1 The Trust has a duty to manage sickness absence in order to ensure continuity of service and quality patient care.

1.2 The aim of this policy is to achieve an appropriate balance between the needs of the Trust as an employer and provider of ambulance services and the welfare and rehabilitation of sick or injured employees.

1.3 Managers must approach the problems of ill health in an equitable manner. Employees who are unwell must be dealt with sympathetically and any assistance provided where practicable. Clear medical information must be obtained and discussed confidentially with employees, i.e. Occupational Health Service (OHS) or other agencies.

1.4 The Trust accepts that a level of absence due to sickness amongst staff is inevitable and takes seriously its role as a caring and sympathetic employer when managing cases of long term, short term and chronic ill health. The overriding principle of this document is that staff who are suffering from ill health should be treated sympathetically, but that such matters should not be ignored and that problems which arise must be addressed.

1.5 The Trust recognises the requirements of both health and safety at work (HASAW), employment legislation and Agenda for Change national agreements. In particular the health and safety of employees requires that staff returning to full duties after a period of illness or injury should do so only when they are fully recovered.

1.6 It is important to note that whilst each case will be different and must be considered on an individual basis; the principles inherent in this policy must be followed. In applying the policy and procedure care must be taken to ensure that no employee is discriminated against, directly or indirectly.

1.7 All information concerning a member of staff must remain strictly confidential and will only be released to the relevant manager.

1.8 The Trust has a duty of care to its employees and it is the responsibility of line managers to offer support to staff who are sick throughout the sickness period.

1.9 Managers must take full account of all current legislation particularly the Disability Discrimination Act 1995.
1.10 Staff will have the right to be accompanied at all levels within this Policy, which may on occasions include return to work (RTW) meetings.

1.11 All absences will be input into the Electronic Staff Record (ESR). It is this ESR data which will provide the record of absence when using this Policy.

2 Implementation

2.1 Managers are expected to show understanding towards those who are absent for reasons of ill-health or injury whilst ensuring that the policy and procedures are followed.

2.2 The ensuing guidelines and procedures are part of an overall policy towards sickness absence which can be summarised as:

   a. to deal fairly and consistently with all employees who are absent for reasons of sickness or injury, irrespective of their grade or job
   b. to deal with every case of absence due to sickness with care and respect for the individual concerned
   c. to ensure that all employees understand their own responsibilities in relation to absence due to sickness, including the person to whom they should report on the first day of absence and any continuing absence
   d. to ensure that all managers understand their responsibility for managing absence due to sickness

2.3 The national Agenda for Change and local Trust terms and conditions make provision for payment during sickness and certain requirements for sickness certification and medical examination. Nothing in this document overrides or replaces those conditions.

2.4 All managers, supervisors and trade union representatives will receive guidance so that they understand their roles and responsibilities in the management of sickness absence.
2.5 Managers should ensure that a culture of good attendance is created by:

a. regular communication with their staff
b. ensuring that persons recruited to the Trust are capable of carrying out the duties contained in their job description, and receive comprehensive induction training
c. adherence to HASAW legislation keeping under review best practice in promoting the health safety and welfare of employees

2.6 Employees will not be entitled to an additional day off if sick on a statutory holiday.

2.7 Annual leave not taken due to long term sickness will not be carried forward into the following leave year, other than provided for in the following paragraph, and pay in lieu will not be given.

2.8 Any member of staff who has not taken their statutory 28 days annual leave (inclusive of Bank Holidays) i.e. any member of staff who has taken less than 28 days leave within the leave year, may request to carry forward statutory annual leave i.e. 28 days minus leave taken, to the following leave year. 28 days is the maximum amount to be carried forward (European Court of Justice ruling January 2009 refers). Staff are unable to carry forward their contractual entitlement in addition to the statutory minimum

2.9 In the event that a member of staff falls ill during a period of annual leave, then they will only be recorded as being on sick leave if they submit a Statement of Fitness for Work (SoFfW) See Annex A to be requested by employee and authorised by line manager. If a charge is made for providing a doctor’s certificate then the Trust will meet the cost.

2.10 The management of sickness absence is the responsibility of four key parties:

a. Managers, Annex B
b. Human Resources Department, Annex C
c. Payroll Department, Annex D
d. Occupational Health Service, Annex E
3 Employee Responsibilities

3.1 In all cases of sickness or injury, which necessitate taking time off work, it is expected that an employee will do their utmost to facilitate a speedy return to fitness and work. In this regard, employees are trusted to act sensibly and honestly.

3.2 The Trust would not expect any employee who is absent from work due to sickness or injury to:

   a. undertake any similar employment, whether paid or unpaid, which is inconsistent with the nature of their illness or injuries
   b. engage in any activity which is detrimental to the nature of their illness or injuries

3.3 A general principle is that an employee who has been advised not to work at all by their GP or other clinician should not report for any duties. Such staff would normally be expected to attend appointments with Occupational Health and attendance review meetings.

   1. Such staff may also be asked by the Trust to attend:

      (a) Courts, coroner’s courts or professional hearings in order to give evidence;
      (b) Events organised by the Trust and/or other NHS bodies in order to investigate an incident;
      (c) Meetings in connection with their status as TU representatives;

Interviews or panels being held under the Trust’s disciplinary policy and procedures where such a request is not incompatible with the reason for their sickness absence.

If such staff are requested to attend at a court, hearing or investigation by a third party – possibly unaware that they are on sick leave – they should only do so in liaison with the Trust to ensure that such attendance is no incompatible with the reason for their sickness absence.

3.4 Operational members of staff, who are unable to report for duty due to ill health, must notify the relevant Line Manager/Department following the Reporting Procedure for their Locality which can be obtained from the HR Department. Employees who are attending training or study away from the workplace (with particular reference to University students) must inform the relevant Line Manager/Department within the Trust.
3.5 Failure to comply with the relevant reporting procedures may result in loss of statutory sick pay (SSP) and occupational sick pay (OSP).

3.6 Staff must notify their manager where sickness is caused by an injury sustained at work. Staff should ensure that details are submitted on WMAS54 Form as soon as practicable or by following the procedure in use within each Locality.

3.7 It is the responsibility of employees to report, in writing, any change in their health of which they are aware, which may affect their ability to undertake duties effectively and safely in order to satisfy road traffic law and health and safety legislation. This also includes reporting to the appropriate professional bodies e.g. HPC.

3.8 Staff are encouraged to maintain a level of fitness appropriate to their job.

3.9 Staff are encouraged to seek help and support e.g. through the OHS or counselling service. Information and telephone numbers for contacts are contained within the Occupational Stress Policy. In addition please refer to Annex D which provides some initial contact details and numbers.

3.10 Staff are encouraged to arrange all non-emergency medical and dental appointments outside their working hours although it is accepted that this may not always be possible e.g. short notice/change of appointments or those involving children. Any appointments which cannot be made outside of their working hours will be discussed with their Manager on an individual basis.

3.11 Staff must report their sickness absence as set out in Annex F

4 Employers Responsibility

4.1 In all cases of sickness the Trust as an employer has a responsibility to provide to its employees the same level of care as to its patients. Upon the individuals notification of sickness absence the Trust has a duty to assess the medical/treatments needs of that individual.

4.2 Each section and department is responsible for keeping accurate records of sickness absence in their area. Initial recording may be manually or electronically with the final record being maintained on ESR. Categories for recording on ESR are shown at Appendix G. It is the responsibility of Departmental Managers to monitor sickness absence for all staff for whom they are responsible and to initiate action on any individual basis when it is considered appropriate.
4.3 Absence records will provide information on any time lost whether full or part days, shifts and the reason for any absence including any known medical diagnosis. Managers should also monitor requests for leaving work during shifts due to illness; record times lost and take appropriate action should a pattern emerge. This basic level of information must be readily available and historical records maintained for at least 3 years.

4.4 Managers will investigate factors that may contribute to the levels and potential patterns of sickness absence within their department. This may include environment and/or job related factors. Action must be taken wherever possible to minimise these factors.

4.5 Managers should notify the appropriate department of all unpaid absence using documentation such as time sheets, internal memorandum, rostering system as per local procedures.

There is a continuing commitment to provide information on absences for statutory sick pay (SSP). Details of benefits and allowances are summarised in Appendix H; further information can be obtained from Payroll Manager.

4.6 It is the Managers’ responsibility together with Human Resources to refer employees with either long term or persistent short term sickness absence to the Occupational Health Department. Managers must advise the employee of this referral.

4.7 Managers should ensure that employees are aware that they can seek help and support e.g. through the OHS or counselling service. Information and telephone numbers for contacts are contained within the Occupational Stress Policy. In addition please refer to Annex E which provides some initial contact details and numbers.

4.8 Where an employee is absent as a result of a musculoskeletal injury, or a work related stress illness they will automatically be referred to the Occupational Health Department for review.
4.9 In dealing with any case of ill health, the following basic rules and guidelines should be followed:

a. The employee must always be told clearly what aspect of the employee’s sickness/attendance record is causing concern.

b. The possible consequences of continued sickness non-attendance must be clearly stated.

c. The employee must have the right of reply and explanation, through their representative, if so desired.

d. The manager must always act reasonably in all circumstances of the case.

5 Short Term Sickness

5.1 Short-term sickness absence can be defined, for management purposes, as periods of absence of less than four calendar weeks in duration. Many employees will be ill for a short period and this simply requires recording and an informal meeting with their line manager or supervisor to ascertain whether the employee needs support/assistance on their return to work. Managers must interview staff where employees have had:

a. Four or more episodes within a rolling twelve month period.

b. Where a particular pattern can be identified.

c. More than 16 calendar days of absence, in total, within a rolling 12 month period.

5.2 Stage One

5.2.1 Once a member of staff reaches one of the Sickness Absence trigger points a meeting is arranged by the line manager, the employee and their representative (if attending). Meetings will be convened within 14 calendar days unless mutually agreed otherwise. This meeting should discuss attendance and possible reasons for absence, offer help and agree a need for improvement.

5.2.2 At this Stage consideration must be given to any instances which are related to industrial injury (including assaults) or planned operations.

5.2.3 Guidance on short-term sickness absence interviews is set out in Annex I. A letter inviting the employee to attend should be issued as soon as is reasonably practical in the circumstances.
5.2.4 6. A record of this interview should be kept and the outcomes may include the employee being informed of the following:

a. no further action;
b. a referral to Occupational Health, together with a request for permission for the Occupational Health Physician to approach the General Practitioner and any relevant Consultant involved during the sickness. This is confidential in terms of the medical details and the individual should be assured of this; the referral is to obtain advice on the reasons for the absences and any likely future patterns. Any medical reports received will be subject to the Access to Medical Reports Act 1988. Should an employee wish, they can undergo a separate examination with their own doctor, who will communicate their findings to the Occupational Health Physician;
c. the Trust through Occupational Health may require on occasion to seek independent specialist opinion;
d. information on the remaining SSP and OSP entitlement for the following twelve months (following previous verification from the Payroll department);
e. that self-certification will not be acceptable and that they must produce a SoW for future absences for a specified time period for less than 7 days to be utilised with short term frequent absences and any identified patterns of absence. If a charge is made for providing a doctor’s certificate then the Trust will meet the cost;
f. that failure to comply with specific requirements relating to producing SoW or co-operating with the OHS may result in loss of pay and/or disciplinary action;
g. the advice of the OHS will be considered and each case will be dealt with on its own merits information on the likely outcome, if after an appropriate review period, there is little or no improvement in the employees sickness record, and when the next review will take place.

5.2.5 The employee will be advised that continuation of this level of sickness absence is unacceptable. At this stage consideration may be given to the possibility of temporary alternative employment, if it is considered that this may improve an employee’s health and therefore attendance. Discussion at this point in the process may also include the avoidance of working additional overtime hours. If the employee meets the agreed level of improvement the issue will be resolved; however if the employee fails to meet the agreed level the next stage of the procedure will be followed.
5.2.6 There is no compulsion to use a Review period at this Stage. If a Review period is deemed appropriate the period between Stage 1 & Stage 2 is 5 months from the date the employee booked fit to return to duty.

5.3 Stage Two Sickness Absence Meeting

5.3.1 Further action will be taken with the member of staff if any further absence is recorded within a review period.

5.3.2 A meeting will be held between the employee, their representative (if attending) and a representative from HR. General Managers may be involved at this Stage and further Stages. Meetings will be convened within 14 calendar days unless mutually agreed otherwise. This meeting will discuss attendance and possible reasons for absence, offer help and agree a need for improvement.

5.3.3 At this Stage consideration must be given to any instances which are related to industrial injury (including assaults) or planned operations.

5.3.4 7. This Stage Two meeting should discuss:

   a. attendance performance
   b. failure to improve or maintain required attendance
   c. possible reasons for absences
   d. possible remedial actions
   e. consequences of failure to improve

5.3.5 8. All issues discussed and conclusions reached should be documented. Copies of this documentation should be copied to the employee and recorded on the employee’s personal file. Outcomes, as recorded in Stage One meeting may also be considered at this Stage Two meeting.

5.3.6 9. If the sicknesses are identified not to be genuine after following the Incident Investigation Policy, the Disciplinary/Capability Procedure may be invoked. All stages of the Disciplinary/Capability Procedure may then follow ultimately with the possibility of dismissal on the grounds of unacceptable conduct. The Disciplinary/Capability Procedure may be invoked at any further stage if the sicknesses are not considered to be genuine.

5.3.7 The employee will be advised that continuation of this level of sickness absence is unacceptable. At this stage consideration may be given to the possibility of temporary alternative employment, if it is considered that this may improve an employee’s health and therefore attendance. Discussion at this point in the process may also include the avoidance of working additional overtime hours. If the employee meets the agreed level of improvement the issue will be resolved; however if the employee fails to meet the agreed level the next stage of the procedure will be followed.

5.3.8 There is no compulsion to use a Review period at this Stage. If a Review period is deemed appropriate the period between Stage 2 & Stage 3 is five months from the date the employee booked fit to return to duty.

5.4 Stage Three Review Meeting

5.4.1 Further action will be taken with the member of staff if a further absence is recorded within the review period.

5.4.2 If there is still no improvement in the attendance level a review meeting will be held between the employee, their representative (if attending), Head of Department/Line manager and a Human Resources representative. Meetings will be convened within 14 calendar working days unless mutually agreed otherwise. A review should be made of all the information collected at previous stages and all circumstances must be taken into account. Further information should be obtained as required.

5.4.3 All issues discussed and conclusions reached should be documented. Copies of this documentation should be sent to the employee and recorded on the employee’s file. Further Occupational health/medical advice may be required.

5.4.4 The employee will be advised that continuation of this level of sickness absence is unacceptable. At this stage consideration may be given to the possibility of temporary alternative employment, if it is considered that this may improve an employee’s health and therefore attendance. Discussion at this point in the process may also include the avoidance of working additional overtime hours. If the employee meets the agreed level of improvement the issue will be resolved; however if the employee fails to meet the agreed level the next stage of the procedure will be followed.

5.4.5 It is reasonable that a member of staff should be given formal written notice of the manager’s concern about the level/pattern of absence, and that the letter should make it clear that if the level/pattern of absence continues they could put their employment at risk.

5.4.6 The review period between Stage 3 & Post Stage 3 is five months from the date the employee booked fit to return to duty.

5.5 Post Stage Three Review

5.5.1 Where the employee fails to meet the targets set after Stage 3 the people who attended the Stage 3 Review will reconvene, meet with the employee to discuss additional information and future options. Where this meeting is unable to set any further achievable targets or provide any further assistance termination and/or ill health if appropriate may be considered.

5.2.2 Termination is an action of last resort and would not generally be used in circumstances where an Ill Health Retirement or other options area available. Should no medical prognosis be available and there is no change in a member of staff’s condition and no estimated return date, termination of employment may be instigated at the Managers discretion. Only the appropriate Director or Senior Manager can sanction termination of employment on health grounds in consultation with Human Resources.

5.2.3 In all instances at least two warnings (Stage 2 and 3) will be sent, confirming the outcome of personal interviews before dismissal is considered, but exceptional circumstances may necessitate a curtailment of the procedure.

5.2.4 If the employee is not fit to return to normal duties, as determined by medical evidence, the terms of the Disability Discrimination Act 1995 places a responsibility on the Trust to review the job to see whether any reasonable adjustments can be made which would enable the employee to continue in that role; and again consideration to be given to an offer of any existing alternative employment.
6. Long Term Sickness

   6.1 Long term sickness absence can be defined, for management purposes, as periods of absence of more than four calendar weeks in duration. Note that cases of sickness absence, which exceed four weeks in duration, will be automatically referred to the Occupational Health Department.

   6.2 Long term sickness must be handled sensitively and with care. The manager, in conjunction with the Human Resources department, must maintain ongoing contact with the employee throughout the absence. However, care must be taken that the approach is perceived to be helpful and not exerting pressure.

   6.3 Where possible the employee will be interviewed in order to establish the reason for and possible duration of the absence, Annex J. It may be necessary to refer the employee to the OHS when confidential medical information is required.

   6.4 Where the employee has been referred to the OHS, they will confirm if there is an underlying medical reason for the absence and what the duration is likely to be. This may involve the OHS contacting the individual’s GP or Consultant for further information, after obtaining the individual’s consent to do so. The Human Resources department will then brief the relevant manager to include recommendations on how the situation should be managed, as deemed appropriate.

   6.5 11.Dependant on the outcome of the investigations and the information received from the OHS, long term sickness is likely to have one of the following outcomes:

   a. employee fit to return to work in the foreseeable future
   b. employee permanently unfit to return to normal duties
   c. employee not deemed permanently unfit but no return can be anticipated in the foreseeable future

7. Employee Returning to Normal Duties

   7.1 Every employee who has been off sick for more than 7 days is required to provide a SoFFnW note from their GP confirming their fitness to return to work and undertake their full range of duties.

   7.2 Any employee who has been absent due to ill health will, on their return to work, discuss with the most appropriate person any outstanding problems, where appropriate, that may need addressing.
This will be documented on a Return to Work Interview Form, which can be found at Appendix 1 to Annex J. It is expected that the return to work meeting will be held on the first day of returning to duty. If this does not happen on the first day of return to work the meeting will take place as soon as possible but within a two week period. If this meeting does not take place any review date to be agreed will be from the date of return to work.

7.3 If there is concern about individuals fitness to resume normal duties the manager must consult with the Human Resources Department immediately. In these circumstances, it may be necessary to place the individual on special leave, on full pay, pending a referral to the OHS. Please note that this will only be necessary where the condition may impinge on, or be aggravated by the individual’s work environment. Where there is disagreement between the OHS and the employees General Practitioner, consideration may be given to the provision of a second independent medical opinion. Approval for second opinion may only be given by a Head of Human Resources of the Trust.

7.4 Rehabilitation may be considered where practicable and/or appropriate for long term absences. Considerations can be:

a. Re-induction by a period of part-time working with gradually increasing hours normally over an agreed period. The aim of the re-introduction phase is to gradually phase the employee back into their normal work environment in terms of hours, shifts, team etc. The programme is based upon a gradual build up of working hours. To undertake a phased return, the individual must be signed as fit to return to work by their GP and the programme supported by the Occupational Health Service. During this phasing in period, the individual will receive their full remuneration.

b. Outstanding annual leave - it is not recommended that annual leave is taken during the phasing in period on returning to work.

c. Staff may request to take annual leave to assist in their rehabilitation

d. Part time working for an agreed set period.

e. Permanent return on reduced hours.

f. Skills re-training including moving and handling.
8. Employee Unfit to Return to Normal Duties

8.1 If the employee is not fit to return to normal duties, the terms of the Disability Discrimination Act (DDA) 1995 places a responsibility on the Trust to review the job to see whether any reasonable adjustments can be made which would enable the employee to continue in that role – See Annex K on DDA.

8.2 The Trust should consider one, or several, of the following adjustments:

   a. alter premises
   b. allocate some duties to another employee
   c. transfer the person to fill an existing vacancy, or alter working hours
   d. transfer the person to another place of work
   e. allow absences during working hours for rehabilitation, assessment or treatment and or supply additional training
   f. acquire or make changes to equipment
   g. alter instructions in reference manuals
   h. modify procedures for testing or assessment
   i. provide a reader or interpreter
   j. provide supervision

8.3 If this is not reasonably possible, and will have an operational or financially detrimental effect on the Trust or other staff, the Trust will explore the feasibility of any other kind of work as soon as possible. Alternative employment, retraining and/or career counselling for employment elsewhere must be fully explored by the Human Resources department.

8.4 Should re-deployment not be possible, retirement or dismissal on health grounds must be considered. This should be explored fully with the employee as soon as the manager is notified and, where a pension is involved, an estimate obtained from the NHS Pension Agency. It is important that the employee understands their situation and that this is confirmed in writing.

8.5 Where the employee disputes the recommendation to terminate their contract of employment, this will be dealt with as set out in Annex L. It is important to recognise that the use of such procedures, including an appeals process, are to ensure that employees are treated fairly when capability issues are being considered and especially where this may involve the termination of a contract of employment.
9. Employee Not Deemed Permanently Unfit, But no Return can be Anticipated in the Foreseeable Future

9.1 In these circumstances, and before consideration is given to the termination of the employment contract due to incapacity, the appropriate line manager supported by the Human Resources department will:

   a. interview the employee, together with their representative if requested in order to explore the situation

   b. give the employee the opportunity to comment on the medical opinion; give their view of their health; or provide further medical evidence and suggestions on a further course of action

   c. the manager will explore the feasibility of any other kind of work as soon as notified, retraining and/or career counselling for employment elsewhere must be fully explored

   d. the implications of the Disability Discrimination Act must be considered

10. Special Circumstances

10.1 Absences, short term or long term, caused by injury at work, criminal injury, domestic violence or psychiatric illness need to be handled with particular sensitivity. Managers are advised to seek appropriate advice from the Human Resources Department, before pursuing a course of action.

10.2 There are particular requirements under health and safety and sex discrimination law for dealing with illness related to pregnancy, managers/staff must seek advice from the Human Resources Department.

11. Medical Opinion

11.1 During or following any sickness, the Trust reserves the right to refer the individual concerned for a medical review with the Occupational Health Department.
12. Review

12.1 This policy and procedure will be reviewed 12 months following the date of implementation.

13. Responsible Officer

13.1 The officer responsible for the issue and amendment of this policy and procedure is the Director of Human Resources and Organisational Development.

Statement of Fitness for Work Guide to the new ‘fit note’

This guide explains what to do when you get a fit note from your doctor. The fit note is a new form your doctor will give you when your health affects your ability to work. It replaces the old sick note. The fit note may include advice from your doctor on how you may be able to return to work. It is important that you make your doctor aware of the type of work you undertake which may include manual handling, VDU operator, requirement to drive service vehicles etc.

Work can be an important part of your recovery. You can find more details online at www.dwp.gov.uk/fit.note

What if my fit note says I am ‘not fit for work’?

Give or send the fit note to your employer. It provides evidence that you cannot work because of your health. Your employer will use it to arrange your sick pay.

What if my fit note says I ‘may be fit for work’?

If the fit note says you ‘may be fit for work’, this means you may be able to return to work with some help from your employer. You should discuss this advice with your employer to see if you can return to work, taking into account the effects of your illness or injury. If it is possible for you to return to work you should agree how this will happen, what support you will receive and how long the support will last. If you and your employer agree it is not possible for you to return to work until you have recovered further, you do not need to return to your doctor for a new fit note. If your doctor has advised that you may be fit for work with some adjustments but the adjustments are not available, you will remain on sick leave.

Do I need to see my doctor again before I return to work?

Your doctor will say on the fit note whether they need to see you again before you return to work.

How does this affect Statutory Sick Pay?

The arrangements for Statutory Sick Pay have not changed. If the fit note says you may be fit for work but you and your employer agree that you should remain off work, then you can still receive Statutory Sick Pay. If you are in doubt about your rights to Statutory Sick Pay, you can seek advice from your trade union or an advice centre. You can find detailed information about Statutory Sick Pay online at www.direct.gov.uk

NOTIFICATION OF SICKNESS PROCEDURES

FIRST DAY OF ABSENCE

1. On the first day of absence, or sooner where possible (e.g. pre planned operation), staff must report their sickness during working hours to the Line Manager, Scheduling department, or during silent hours to their Locality Emergency Operations Centre (EOC), OOHs and PTS Operations Centre. They must also report to their Line Manager, Scheduling or the EOC when they are fit to return to work following the period of sickness absence whether on duty or not. It is essential you follow your Divisional procedures.

2. If an employee is late in notifying sickness for one or more qualifying days and the manager is not satisfied that the employee has good reason for late notification, the manager can apply to withhold payment for SSP and OSP for the same number of qualifying days. The manager must however, consult with the Human Resources department and the relevant Senior Manager.

3. It is imperative that managers investigate reasons for late notification of sickness absence and are able to justify reasons for recommending non-payment of SSP or OSP. It should be noted that the reasons for non-payment of SSP must be notified in writing, by the line manager, to the salaries and wages department who are charged with the maintenance of records which will be inspected periodically by the Department of Social Security.

4. The line manager should inform the employee of the reason, in writing, if the payment of SSP (Statutory Sick Pay) or OSP (Occupational Sick Pay) has been withheld. The employee will have the right of review.

ABSENCE OF 1 TO 7 CALENDAR DAYS

5. For a period up to and including the seventh calendar day, a completed self-certification form, or alternatively, a Doctor's certificate must be forwarded to the relevant line manager.

6. Self-certification forms must be completed and forwarded immediately to their Line Manager or Scheduling when the employee returns to duty on or before the seventh calendar day. Refer to Appendix 1 to Annex E for copy of Self-Certification form.

ABSENCE OF MORE THAN 7 CALENDAR DAYS

7. For the period of over 7 calendar days and beyond, an employee must obtain a medical certificate from his/her general practitioner (GP) to be submitted to the manager as soon as possible. Both sides of the Medical Certificate to be completed.
8. Medical certificates from the employee's GP will then be required at weekly intervals, or at intervals determined by the GP. The date given on a medical certificate must run concurrently to ensure each calendar day of sickness is covered. Where 'gaps' appear between the expiry dates given on the medical certificates, OSP will be withheld for the days of sickness not covered. Employer should be notified at the earliest opportunity of continuing sickness. Certificates to be forwarded immediately, or as reasonably practicable, following return from their GP.

ANNEX H

Summary of Benefits and Allowance

NHS Industrial Injury Benefits Scheme \(^{(1)}\)

1. The NHS Injury Benefits Scheme, provides index linked benefits for NHS employees, who, as a result of an injury, disease, or condition caused by their employment
   a. are on certified sick leave with reduced or no pay, or
   b. have their earning ability permanently reduced by 11% or more, or
   c. die leaving a spouse and/or dependants

Temporary Injury Allowance (TIA)

2. This allowance is paid by the employer, and guarantees the employees income, including certain Social Security benefits, to 85% of the average pay that they were receiving, immediately prior to pay reducing as a result of the work related injury.

3. TIA is not payable if income exceeds 85% of the average pay (taking in account sick and and social security), and ceases when an individual returns to work.

Permanent Injury Benefit (PIB)

4. Permanent Injury Benefit may be payable, if the work related injury causes a permanent reduction in an individuals earning ability of 11% or more, in the general field of employment.

5. PIB can be paid, if:
   a. working hours are permanently reduced, or
   b. the injured party has to take a less demanding lower paid job, or
   c. has to give up work completely

6. PIB is intended to top up a person’s income to ensure that they receive a guaranteed amount. This is a percentage of average pay, based on the length of NHS service, and the permanent reduction in earning ability.

7. If the employment ends due to a work related injury, then an additional lump sum payment, based on a percentage of annual pay may also be made.
Death Benefits

8. Benefits may also be paid to a spouse and/or dependents, following death resulting from a work related injury. Again, these allowances are intended as a top up to income, to provide a guaranteed level of income.

9. Full details of the NHS Injury Benefits Scheme can be obtained from the Pensions Officer, or by contacting the NHS Pensions Agency direct.

10. Further information on benefits and allowances can be obtained from the Payroll Department.¹

¹ Possible changes to the NHS Injury Benefit Scheme are still being discussed by NHS Employers and the NHS Trade Unions.

RETURN TO WORK CHECKLIST

It is good management practice to ensure that the employee is deemed fit to return to work. Therefore all employees must be seen on their return to work, irrespective of the time and duration of the sickness. In most circumstances this will simply be for welfare purposes and to ensure the employee is fit to return to work. Employees may request staff representation at this meeting however there will be no delays to the meeting should a staff representative not be available.

☐ The reason for the employee’s non-attendance at work.

☐ Discuss the employee’s general health ie are they well – has work impacted on their health?

☐ Do you have copies of all self-certification forms and medical certificates?

☐ Is there a pattern in the absence that may highlight a problem?

☐ Is there an underlying medical problem?

☐ Could this problem affect their ability to carry out their job?

☐ Is a phased return to work required? If so the employee must be referred to Occupational Health.

☐ Do they need referral to any other agency? ie counselling.

☐ Do you require advice from the HR Department?

Please ensure that the environment for the above meeting is appropriate and that the meeting is carried out sensitively.

ANNEX K

Disability Discrimination Act 1995 (DDA)

This Annex is a brief overview of the Disability Discrimination Act 1995 (DDA). Please consider its content when managing absence whether it be short- or long-term.

Overview

The Trust is legally required under the DDA to make reasonable adjustments to enable its employees to continue working should they be/become disabled. It is also required to make sure the individual is not disadvantaged at work because of their disability.

A disabled person is defined in the Act as:

'anyone with a physical or mental impairment which has a substantial and long-term adverse effect upon his ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities'.

Questions to consider

Each element of this definition should be separately considered in the following stages. Consider these questions when discussing with the employee:

1. Is there a physical or mental impairment?
2. Does the impairment have an effect on the worker’s ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities (as listed in the DDA)? Is the effect substantial?
3. Is the substantial effect long-term?

Impairments & effects

It is not possible to list a range of conditions covered by the Act, e.g. arthritis, diabetes, depression, back impairment. Each employee’s case will depend on the effects of the impairment and their severity. This is because every individual experiences his/her disability very differently. It is crucial not to make generalisations. Some people will experience little effect on their day-to-day activities and will manage at work quite easily. Others will have severe effects. It is therefore essential to listen to what the employee says about the daily effects of his/her disability, and let him/her identify the difficulties s/he has at work.

Discrimination and making reasonable adjustments

Discrimination means treating someone less favorably without any justification and the Act requires that employers make reasonable adjustments if that will then remove the reason for the unfavorable treatment. Basically this means employers must take reasonable steps, e.g. to adjust hours or duties, buy or modify equipment or allow time off, so that the worker can carry out his/her job. Compulsory training, at least of supervisors and managers, would surely be a reasonable adjustment in certain circumstances.

Where an employee becomes so disabled that s/he is no longer able to do his/her job at all, a reasonable adjustment may be to move him/her to another job, even at a slightly higher grade, without competitive interview.

The employer only needs to make reasonable adjustment if s/he knows or can reasonably be expected to know that:

1. The worker is disabled
2. The worker is likely to be at a substantial disadvantage as a result.

Eligibility & when to discuss disability

A disability discrimination case can be brought by existing employees, job applicants, workers employed on a contract personally to execute any work, apprentices and contract workers, e.g. agency workers or those working for contracted-out services. There is no minimum qualifying service or hours required for a worker to make a claim. This is why job applicants need to be asked before interview if they require any reasonable adjustments to enable them to attend the interview.

The Act not only covers disabled people who may join the Trust, but also people who become disabled during the course of their employment. For example, once they return to work after a period of long-term absence following an industrial incident. It is vital that the Trust discusses with its employees what their needs really are and what effect, if any, the disability may have on future work with the organisation. This includes discussing the need to be absent during working or training hours for rehabilitation, assessment or treatment. An appropriate time for this discussion would be during the return to work interview or absence management review.

Funding towards making reasonable adjustments

The Access to Work programme is administered through Jobcentre Plus and may provide grants towards the cost of various adjustments. More information about this programme can be found by calling Job Centre Plus on: 02920 423 291 or at: http://www.direct.gov.uk/en/DisabledPeople/Employmentsupport/WorkSchemesAndProgrammes/DG_4000347.

Medical Evidence of a disability

Medical evidence may be obtained from one or more of the worker’s GP, Physiotherapist, counsellor or consultant. It is almost always provided in the form of a written report. However it is important to consider that it is not for a doctor/OHS to give advice on the law and the meaning of concepts in the definition of disability such as “substantial” and “day-to-day activity”. What a doctor/OH Professional can do, for example, is comment on the ease or otherwise with which the worker carries out day-to-day activities. It is worth noting, however, that disability does not necessarily affect someone's health, so insisting on a medical report purely on the basis of the disability may be unlawful discrimination.

Additional Sources of Information:
The Disability Rights Commission Helpline can offer further information and advice on the DDA - 08457 622 633.

TERMINATION OF CONTRACT DUE TO INCAPACITY

1. This process is intended for situations where the Trust believes the employee’s contract of employment should be terminated on the grounds of their incapacity and/or inability to fulfil their contract of employment.

2. The termination of a contract of employment should only be considered where all alternatives, as set out in this policy have been exhausted including consideration of the Disability Discrimination Act 1995.

3. The primary purpose of the process is to ensure that the employee has the opportunity to challenge the decision and have access to an appeal mechanism in the event that the contract of employment is terminated.

4. Any member of staff against whom the decision to dismiss has been taken, has the right of appeal. An employee who wishes to lodge an appeal against the action should inform the Director of Human Resources within 14 days of receiving written notification of the action. Any appeal must be in writing and should make clear whether the member of staff is appealing against the finding that they are deemed unable to fulfil their contractual obligations. Any further related evidence may also be submitted. The Human Resources department will then make any arrangements for the review of the decision.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

Q. Explanation of rolling 12 months how it works?
A. 12 months back from the first day of absence. For example:

Today’s date is 1 October 2010. Absence history is:

10 December 2009 – 5 days absence
1 March 2010 – 1 day absence
26 July–31 August 10 – 37 days absence

Looking back over twelve months we would be looking at the period 1 October 2009 to 30 September 2010. In the above example there has been 3 incidents totaling 43 days. At the end of December 2010 this will have reduced to 2 absences of 38 days in total (assuming no further sickness has occurred).

Q. What happens when there are no more absences following the review period of 5 months?
A. If no absences have occurred during the 5 month review period the status of Stage 1, 2 or 3 will cease to operate. However if recurrent pattern of expired Stages 1, 2 or 3 is identified this will be dealt with via the Sickness Absence Management Policy as identified patterns relating to sickness absence.

Q. What is my sick pay entitlement?
A. As per Agenda for Change Terms and Conditions Handbook. This is subject to update. Current entitlement is given below:

During first year of service - One month’s full pay and (after completing four months service) – two months’ half pay

During second year of service - Two months’ full pay and two months’ half pay

During third year of service - Four months’ full pay and four months’ half pay

During fourth and fifth years - Five months’ full pay and five months’ of service half pay

After completing five years’ service - Six months’ full pay and six months’ half pay
